John Wood gave a brief speech to the Court regarding the CAD Board.

Judge Boedeker stated that this item is of particular public importance and interest and moved directly to Action Item A4.

ACTION ITEMS

A4. Consider and Approve "Resolution by the Commissioners Court of Johnson County Affirming the Casting of Votes in the 2024-2025 Election of the Board of Directors for The Central Appraisal District of Johnson County, Texas"-County Judge's Office

Judge Boedeker stated that the court had 964 votes to allocate. He asked the Court if anyone had the amount of votes it takes to secure a position on the CAD board. He then called Craig Hundley to the podium to share that information with the Court.

Mr. Hundley stated that John Wood and Amy Lingo had 6 votes each from the city of Grandview. He then stated that Johnson County has 964 votes and that it requires 834 votes to secure one nominee position on the CAD Board per the Central Appraisal District.

Judge Boedeker said that Amy Lingo's name has been brought up repeatedly and that his preference would be to give her enough votes to secure a nomination on the board. He then opened the subject up for discussion.

Comm. Bailey stated with the growth in Johnson County that the taxes and values will continue to go up but he is in favor of giving Amy Lingo the number of votes that would be required to secure a seat on the CAD Board. He also mentioned that the Court needs to focus on who the other candidate would be that the remaining votes would go to.

Comm. Howell agreed that the Court needs to cast enough votes so that one spot on the CAD Board is secured. He added his opinion is that the remainder of the votes should go to the only other candidate who already has votes, which is Mr. John Wood.

Comm. Bailey thanked all of those that want to serve.

Comm. White agreed that it is time to have citizens on the CAD Board for transparency. He stated that he's been impressed with Amy Lingo, and he likes Comm. Howell's idea to give the remaining votes to John Wood.

MOTION by Comm. Bailey, seconded by Comm. White, to give 828 electoral votes to Amy Lingo and the remaining 136 votes of our 964 to John Wood.

All voted aye; motion carried.
